Patrick McAnaney Joins DC Mayor-Elect's Transition Committee on Housing

Patrick McAnaney of Somerset Development Company has joined DC Mayor-elect Janeese Lewis George's Transition Committee on Housing where he will help the transition team come up to speed on the challenging issues that DC faces in developing affordable housing.

Patrick joined Somerset in 2019 where, as Development Director for DC, he has focused on identifying and developing mixed-income affordable housing properties with The Faircliff being the newest Somerset property to open on 14th Street near Columbia Heights.

Mr. McAnaney has a Master's Degree in Urban and Regional Planning from Georgetown University, a Master's Degree in Development Economics from Johns Hopkins University, and a Bachelor of Arts degree in History and Policy Studies from Rice University. He also currently serves on the DC Housing Production Trust Fund Advisory Board and the Board of Directors for Housing&, a regional affordable housing coalition.

Somerset Development Company, LLC focuses on the development and preservation of affordable housing as well as mixed income, mixed-use and market-rate residential properties, specializing in the revitalization of urban communities through the redevelopment of distressed properties. Since our founding in 2000, our mission is to achieve comprehensive and sustainable community revitalization by partnering with tenant associations, community organizations, nonprofits, local businesses, and organizations in the public sector that share Somerset's vision, while also investing in quality resident services programs to support our residents in these underserved communities.
